ELEMREX Dashboard

Partnering with AHS enables us to offer ELEMREX to provide a cutting-edge platform that streamlines referrals, providing measurable benefits for providers and patients.”

Todd Albertini, CEO Movement Medical

The partnership immediately extends AHS's reach to over 2,000 orthopedic specialists across more than 200 medical practices, introducing groundbreaking technology designed to optimize patient referrals and elevate healthcare outcomes.

Elemrex®, AHS's revolutionary AI-powered platform, bridges communication gaps between primary care physicians, specialists, and patients to deliver seamless, secure, and efficient referral management. Through this collaboration, Movement Medical will empower healthcare providers in the Pacific Northwest with tools to:

- Enhance practice efficiency
- Increase new patient revenue
- Reduce referral leakage
- Improve patient outcomes

“This partnership marks a significant milestone for both AHS and Movement Medical, and we are thrilled to join forces,” said Jamie Wisser, MD, FACS, Founder and CEO of AHS. “Elemrex® is transforming referral management, and with Movement Medical’s robust network, trusted relationships, and extensive expertise, we’re excited to bring this innovation to the Pacific Northwest—a region renowned for its commitment to healthcare excellence.”

Todd Albertini, Founder and CEO of Movement Medical, added, “At Movement Medical, our mission is to empower healthcare providers with solutions that enable them to deliver the highest-quality care. Partnering with AHS allows us to offer a cutting-edge platform that simplifies the referral process while delivering measurable benefits for providers and patients alike. We proudly represent Elemrex® and look forward to its positive impact on our community.”

This collaboration is pivotal for the healthcare industry as practices increasingly seek innovative solutions to address inefficiencies and improve patient experiences. By combining AHS’s advanced AI technology with Movement Medical’s well-established presence in the Pacific Northwest, the partnership is poised to set a new standard for care in the region.
