"We are profoundly honored to be acknowledged as the Most Investable Startup at the Global Fundraising Stage of the WBAF 2024 in Bahrain."

Mark Godsy, Chairman and CEO of Naqi Logix,

Chairman Baybars Atlantis of the World Business Angels Investment Forum (WBAF) remarked, "We are thrilled to celebrate Naqi Logix as the Most Investable Startup at the GFRS 2024, the Global Fundraising Stage of the World Business Angels Investment Forum in Bahrain. Among an exceptional cohort of 56 highly talented startups, Naqi Logix stood out for its groundbreaking advancements in non-invasive neural technologies, showcasing remarkable innovation and leadership. This year's Forum brought together entrepreneurs, investors, thought leaders, and policymakers from 44 countries, all united in fostering a culture of innovation and collaboration. Naqi Logix's achievement is a testament to WBAF's mission of spotlighting ideas with the potential to make a transformative global impact. I extend my heartfelt gratitude to the WBAF Angel Investment Fund and our global network of investors for supporting initiatives that push the boundaries of what's possible. We look forward to witnessing the incredible milestones Naqi Logix will achieve in the journey ahead as they continue to reshape the landscape of neural technology."

Mark Godsy, Chairman and CEO of Naqi Logix, said: "We are profoundly honored to be acknowledged as the Most Investable Startup at the Global Fundraising Stage of the WBAF 2024 in Bahrain. This acknowledgment from such an esteemed assembly, highlighting our strides in non-invasive neural technology, reinforces the dedication and ingenuity permeating every layer of Naqi Logix. Our achievement among distinguished innovators underlines our role as pioneers in transforming human-device interactions. This recognition is not merely a milestone but it's a call for the future of neurotechnology. It fortifies our resolve to advance this cutting-edge technology, ensuring significant and accessible impacts worldwide. With the backing of the global investor community, we are excited and equipped to navigate the thrilling path ahead, continuing to innovate and lead in the neural technology arena."
