LEEDS, WEST YORKSHIRE, UNITED KINGDOM, December 4, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Claire Martinez Falconer is pleased to announce her first collection of poetry, "Flying Monkeys and Brown Bees." Through a succession of quirky and humorous poems, this delightful book aims to captivate the imagination of readers, ages 6 to 99.

More than just a collection of poetry, "Flying Monkeys and Brown Bees" is an invitation to enter an imaginative world of living language and striking images that will delight children and their families. Each poem is carefully written, with themes ranging from stuffed creatures to ordinary adventures, and each is vividly portrayed with eye-catching illustrations that enhance the text.

Drawing on her years of experience in promoting young readers, Claire Martinez Falconer, a primary school librarian at an international school in Spain, adds her love for children's books to this project. Each page of this book reflects her passion for stories, poetry, and family, as the book is designed for parents to read and enjoy with their children, encouraging the development of their imagination.

Falconer commented, "Writing this book has been a dream come true." "I wanted to do something that would encourage children to love reading, as well as being entertaining. This poetry is meant to be appreciated, shared, and read aloud."
