

Rony Jabour Honored with Prestigious Excellence in Education Award at Education 2.0 Conference in Dubai

From Humble Beginnings to Global Recognition: Rony Jabour's Journey in Transforming Workplace Safety Through Education

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, December 5, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Occupational safety expert and educator Rony Jabour received the highly esteemed Excellence in Education Award at the Education 2.0 Conference, held from December 3–5, 2024, at the InterContinental, Dubai Festival City. The conference, recognized globally for bringing together trailblazers in the education sector, highlights revolutionary ideas and groundbreaking contributions to learning and training.

Rony Jabour celebrates his Excellence in Education Award at the Education 2.0 Conference in Dubai, joined by his wife, symbolizing the unwavering support behind his global impact in workplace safety and education.

Jabour's journey in the field of Environmental, Health, and Safety (EHS) began humbly in 2007, when he started as a volunteer translator for OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Administration) through the OSHA Alliance Program with the Brazilian Worker Center in the United States. From this foundation, Jabour built a career defined by passion, dedication, and an unwavering commitment to workplace safety. Over time, he rose to become one of the leading figures in the global EHS industry.

Having personally trained over 50,000 workers throughout his career, Jabour reflected on the profound personal meaning of the award. "As the son of a father who tragically lost his life in a workplace accident, this award is deeply meaningful," he remarked. "These 50,000 individuals I've trained represent more than workers—they are parents, children, and families who now have a better chance of avoiding the tragedy I experienced."

As the founder of United Safety Net, one of the most renowned EHS schools in the United States, Jabour has tirelessly worked to enhance workplace safety through impactful education. Under his leadership, United Safety Net has become a beacon of excellence, equipping thousands with critical skills to create safer work environments.

The Education 2.0 Conference, themed "Uniting Changemakers To Revolutionize Education," served as a platform for thought leaders, educators, and innovators from across the globe. Jabour stood out for his transformative contributions to safety training and modern education. During his acceptance speech, he said: "Ladies and gentlemen, it is an incredible honor to stand before you today and receive this award. But this award is not just about me; it belongs to every teacher, every mentor, and every trainer who dedicates their lives to transforming others through education."

Jabour also took a moment to honor his family, students, and colleagues in EHS training. "This recognition is dedicated to my fellow EHS trainers, who work tirelessly to educate and protect workers, ensuring they return home safely each day," he said.

Although based in Boston, Jabour has made a significant global impact, sharing his expertise in countries such as France, Switzerland, Portugal, the Maldives, Dubai, South Africa, Angola, and Mozambique, as well as across multiple states in Brazil. His
