

Dallas-Based Healthcare IT Leader Secures $53M Investment to Transform Patient Care and Expand Global Reach

DALLAS, TX, UNITED STATES, December 11, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SpinSci, a pioneering SaaS-based healthcare technology company, has secured a $53 million majority investment from Aldrich Capital Partners, cementing its position as an innovator in healthcare IT. This funding accelerates SpinSci's hyper-growth across patient access care, clinical collaboration, and patient financial services.

With its roots in Dallas, SpinSci has quickly disrupted the healthcare landscape by delivering AI-driven solutions that enhance patient interactions for major healthcare providers. Its innovative SaaS workflows empower health systems to deliver integrated, value-based care through seamless digital experiences. From human-assisted contact centers to GenAI-powered self-service tools, SpinSci supports the entire patient journey—from intake and scheduling to billing, pharmacy coordination, discharge planning, surveys, and follow-ups. Serving over 40 million patients annually, SpinSci counts top health systems like Baylor Scott & White, Yale, Mercy Hospitals, Reid Health, and Mt. Sinai Florida among its customers.

Fueled by Aldrich Capital Partners' investment, SpinSci is poised to expand into new markets with its Operator Console solution and Patient Financial Services offerings. The company also plans to strengthen its delivery and operations teams, ensuring it remains a trusted innovation partner for healthcare providers.

"We are thrilled to grow in Dallas, a city that has fueled our success with incredible talent and resources," said Rajit Kumar, Founder of SpinSci. "This investment recognizes our impact on healthcare IT and empowers us to drive patient-centered innovation that improves healthcare access for millions. I want to thank Nfluence Partners who acted as the exclusive financial advisors for this transaction."

Mirza Baig, Managing Partner at Aldrich Capital Partners, echoed this enthusiasm: "Rajit and Andy have built a remarkable company. SpinSci's solutions guide patients intelligently to the most appropriate care. We're excited to help scale this innovation and expand its transformative impact."

As SpinSci drives digital health equity and global healthcare transformation, it continues to deliver solutions that enhance clinical collaboration, improve patient access, and optimize financial outcomes. Backed by cutting-edge technology and a customer-first ethos, SpinSci is shaping the future of healthcare.
