

CCS Named a Best Places to Work in Technology 2025

HAUPPAUGE, NY, UNITED STATES, December 16, 2024 / EINPresswire.com/ -- CCS (Custom Computer Specialists) is proud to announce its inclusion on the prestigious Best Places to Work in Technology 2025 list, presented by Best Companies Group. This recognition highlights CCS's unwavering dedication to fostering a workplace culture that values innovation, employee growth, and satisfaction.

The Best Places to Work in Technology award honors companies that have set new benchmarks for creating exceptional work environments.

The rigorous selection process included comprehensive employee surveys evaluating corporate culture, training and development opportunities, compensation, benefits, and overall employee satisfaction.

Jaime Raul Zepeda, Executive Vice President of Best Companies Group, commented, "Every winner on this list has crafted an exceptional work environment that attracts, retains, and motivates top talent. The Best Places to Work in Technology list features companies that have shown unwavering commitment to their employees' satisfaction and growth."

CCS joins a distinguished group of companies recognized for their excellence in employee engagement and workplace innovation. This honor underscores CCS's commitment to creating a supportive, engaging, and inspiring environment for its team members.

"We are thrilled to be named one of the Best Places to Work in Technology," said Jay Whitchurch, Chief Executive Officer, CCS. "At CCS, our people are the foundation of our success, and this recognition validates our continuous efforts to support their professional growth and well-being."

At CCS, our people are the foundation of our success, and this recognition validates our continuous efforts to support their professional growth and well-being.”

Jay Whitchurch, CEO CCS

To celebrate the winners, Best Companies Group will host a virtual event on February 11, 2025. This event will honor companies excelling in key areas such as workplace culture and supporting diversity, including women and millennials.

CCS extends its congratulations to the other honorees and thanks its dedicated employees for making this recognition possible.
