“Opening in Palm Beach represents more than just growth for our business,” says co-founder Lauren Lozano Ziol. “It’s about becoming part of a community that shares our values of elegance, craftsmanship, and authenticity. We're not just here to design beautiful spaces, we are here to create lasting connections."

The announcement comes on the heels of SKIN's recent feature in The Scout Guide, a nationally celebrated publication spotlighting the most exceptional businesses in local communities. The feature highlights SKIN's design philosophy, creative journey, and the distinct style that has earned the firm accolades from Architectural Digest, ELLE Decor, and design et al's "The World's Most Glamorous Homes."

Giving Back to the Community

With every design triumph, SKIN remains equally focused on its mission to give back. In keeping with their core values of community care and social responsibility, Lauren and Michelle recently hosted an exclusive cocktail party to support Habitat for Humanity in Palm Beach. In partnership with Ingenue Palm Beach, the event gathered community leaders, local businesses, and supporters to raise awareness and funding for Habitat's vital mission to provide safe, affordable housing.

"We believe that beautiful spaces should be accessible to everyone, regardless of their circumstances," said co-founder Michelle Jolas. "Our event to raise awareness for Habitat for Humanity reflects that belief. As designers, we understand the power of environment to inspire, comfort, and uplift, and we're honored to contribute to this cause."

Through their charitable initiative, Projekt SKIN, the firm dedicates a portion of its resources to designing spaces for shelters and community organizations in need. The recent cocktail event further underscored their commitment to making a positive impact beyond the world of luxury design.

The SKIN Interior Design team recently hosted a fundraiser for Habitat for Humanity Palm Beach at their showroom, in partnership with local boutique, Ingenue.
