ABOUT MOODY TONGUE BREWING COMPANY:

Founded in 2014 in Chicago by cousins Jared Rouben (President & Brewmaster) and Jeremy Cohn (CEO), Chicago's Moody Tongue Brewing Company is built on the philosophy of culinary brewing, appealing to those with a discerning palate — or as Rouben describes, a “moody tongue.”

A graduate of the Culinary Institute of America in New York and the Siebel Institute of Technology — one of the world's leading beer schools founded in 1900—Rouben worked in MICHELIN-starred kitchens including the Martini House in Napa Valley, California and at Thomas Keller's Per Se in New York City before beginning to brew. Utilizing his extensive culinary background and brewing education, Rouben approaches brewing with a chef's mindset, carefully creating balanced beers that encompass layers of flavors and aromatics using three principles — sourcing high-quality ingredients, understanding how best to handle ingredients, and knowing when and how they should be incorporated during the brewing process. Each year, the brewery offers seven perennial beers, such as the Juiced Lychee IPA, Orange Blossom Belgian Blonde, and Caramelized Chocolate Churro Porter, as well as a selection of limited release beers and wine or whiskey barrel-aged beers. The distribution of Moody Tongue beers focuses on culinary markets throughout the United States with a presence in major cities including Chicago, New York City, Austin, Asheville, Charleston, Louisville and more, as well as internationally in The Netherlands and northern Europe. In 2016, Moody Tongue Brewing Company expanded to open The Tasting Room within a 125-year-old abandoned glass warehouse in Chicago's Pilsen neighborhood. The venue served a menu of both year-round and limited-release beers in an intimate mid-century modern space showcasing a library, which housed the largest collection of beer books in the country. The stylish space quickly garnered critical acclaim and three years later, Moody Tongue's Tasting Room earned the 2019 Jean Banchet award for “Best Bar.”

Later in 2019, Moody Tongue began moving operations to an entirely new 28,600 sq. ft. space in the city's South Loop neighborhood. The large-scale expansion, located at 2515 S. Wabash, immediately grew the brewery's current production capacity and now houses two world class dining concepts alongside Executive Chef James Bingham — a casual, à la carte tasting room, The Bar at Moody Tongue, as well as upscale, intimate restaurant, The Dining Room at Moody Tongue. And, in 2023, Moody Tongue opened its first location in New York City – Moody Tongue Sushi – showcasing beer pairings with specialty nigiri created by experienced Executive Sushi

Chef Hiromi Iwakiri. In 2021, 2022, 2023 and again in 2024, Moody Tongue became the first wholesale brewery / restaurant in the world to receive an accolade from the MICHELIN Guide. For more information, please visit www.moodytongue.com, call 312.600.5111 or find them on social media @moodytongue.
