/EINPresswire.com/ -- The global

Aseptic Packaging Market is poised for considerable expansion in the coming years, as detailed in the Aseptic Packaging Global Market Report 2024. A testament to this is the rapid growth marked by the aseptic packaging market size, from $71.88 billion in 2023 to an expected $80.13 billion in 2024, indicating a compound annual growth rate CAGR of 11.5%. The thrust behind this expansion comes from consumer demands for convenience, extended shelf life, a reduced need for preservatives, globalization of food supply chains, increased focus on food safety, and market spread in developing regions.

The aseptic packaging market size is expected to see rapid growth in the next few years. It will grow to $129.17 billion in 2028 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 12.7%”
