About Attorney Evan Gaines

With over a decade of extensive experience navigating complex class-action and representative action disputes—primarily those involving California labor law—attorney Evan Gaines is uniquely positioned to handle cases of wrongful termination, discrimination, harassment, and various other employment disputes stemming from political harassment. Gaines specializes in termination and discrimination claims, as well as wage and hour issues, including meal and rest breaks, overtime, and unpaid wages.

Client-Centered Philosophy

At Gaines Law Corporation, client comfort and understanding are paramount. Gaines personally guides clients from the beginning until the complete resolution of their case.

"Managing expectations is number one," Gaines said. "I make myself available to my clients whenever they need me. Every client has my cell phone number and can reach out with questions or for status updates. Typically, I respond within minutes, but no client ever waits longer than 12 hours to hear from me. I take immense pride in being reachable and responsive because client contact is crucial. My clients can attest to that."

Gaines is motivated by helping people with their real problems.

"You spend a lot of your life at work, and there is pressure and anxiety that permeate the rest of your life," he said. "Being able to help someone with such a crucial aspect of their day-to-day life is fulfilling."

Education

Gaines earned a Juris Doctor in 2012 from Michigan State University College of Law, where he received American Jurisprudence Awards in complex litigation and client counseling and interviewing. His coursework focused on property and complex civil litigation. He also holds a Bachelor of Arts in film studies from the University of California, Santa Barbara (2005).

Community Commitment

Demonstrating a dedication to justice and accessibility, Gaines has a history of reducing or waiving fees in cases with small settlements, ensuring that clients receive the support they need without added financial strain.
