

Giving the Gift of Independence with LoftyLoo Raised Litter Station: Why Self-Care Is Essential for Pet Care

Empowering Pet Owners: How LoftyLoo Raised Litter Station Enhances Independence and Highlights the Vital Connection Between Self-Care and Pet Care.

LENEXA, KS, UNITED STATES, December 18, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As the first ADA-accessible elevated litter box, LoftyLoo[®] is equipping independence, prioritizing safety, and transforming the lives of cat owners with chronic pain, disabilities, or mobility challenges. Recently named Best Cat Litter Box 2024 by Pet Business, LoftyLoo[®] strengthens the bond between cats and their owners while highlighting the importance of self-care in pet care.

“For cat owners with mobility challenges, having an accessible litter

box opens up a new world for them,” said Amy Leiker, Founder and CEO of LoftyLoo[®]. “There is no greater gift than giving the gift of independence and keeping pets where they belong—at home with their people. LoftyLoo[®] isn’t just about litter care—it’s about supporting cat owners to care for themselves so they can, in turn, care for their pets. It’s truly life-changing.”

For Danielle, a 43-year-old living with chronic pain and mobility limitations, everyday tasks like cleaning her cats’ litter boxes were physically exhausting and painful. “Bending and lifting are two of the hardest physical tasks,” Danielle shared. “After cleaning their litter boxes on the floor level, I’d be in pain for the rest of the day.”

But everything changed when Danielle was gifted a LoftyLoo[®].

"Its elevated, open-access design is truly one of a kind," Danielle said. "It allows me to clean the litter box without straining or bending. For the first time in years, I'm able to handle litter care independently, and it feels amazing to care for my cats without pain and relying on others."

Danielle's experience highlights the critical need for products like LoftyLoo® that allow cat owners to maintain their independence and dignity, even when managing physical challenges.

LoftyLoo® goes beyond ease and convenience—it addresses critical safety concerns. Traditional floor-level litter boxes require movements that can lead to falls, strain, or injuries for individuals with limited mobility. By elevating the litter box to an accessible height, LoftyLoo® helps cat owners prioritize their own health while ensuring their pets' needs are met.

"For many, something as simple as cleaning a litter box can feel overwhelming," Leiker said.

Cleaning a litter box can feel overwhelming," Leiker said. "LoftyLoo makes cleaning joint-friendly, removing barriers so owners can clean safely—sitting or standing—while caring for pets and themselves."

"LoftyLoo® removes these barriers, enabling cat owners to clean the litter box comfortably—whether sitting or standing—while prioritizing their well-being without compromising the care of their beloved pets."

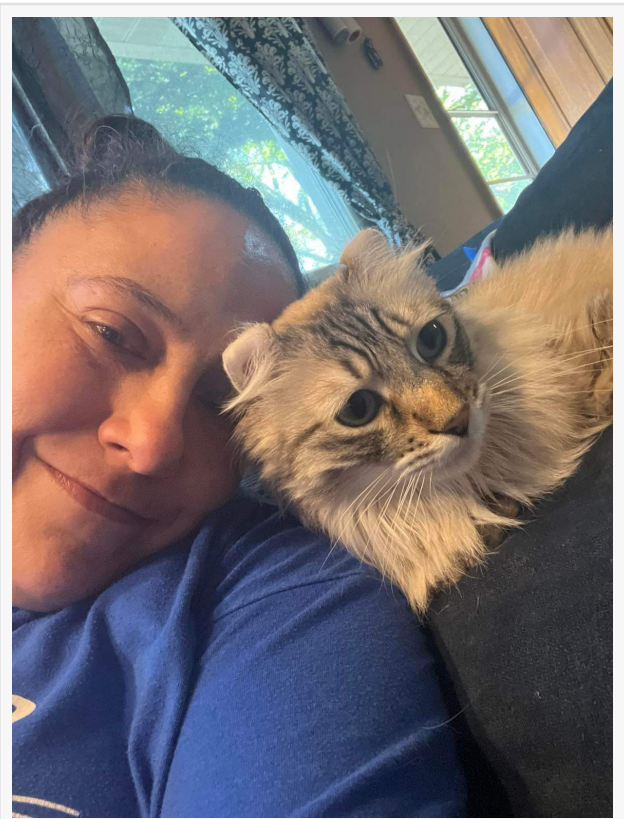

LoftyLoo® was designed with a clear mission: to support cats by caring for the people who care for them, making pet care accessible for everyone. Traditional litter boxes can inadvertently exclude individuals who find bending or stooping difficult or painful. LoftyLoo® bridges this gap, making pet ownership more inclusive and improving the lives of both cats and their owners.

With a price point of $288, LoftyLoo® is an investment in a better future—for pets and their owners. This holiday season, it's not just about giving a gift; it's about giving the gift of independence, security, and love.
