

Final push for toys to support 1,000+ low-income households in Alameda County

Davis Street is set to distribute holiday baskets to over 1,000 low-income households, but is facing a critical toy shortage for more than 800 children.

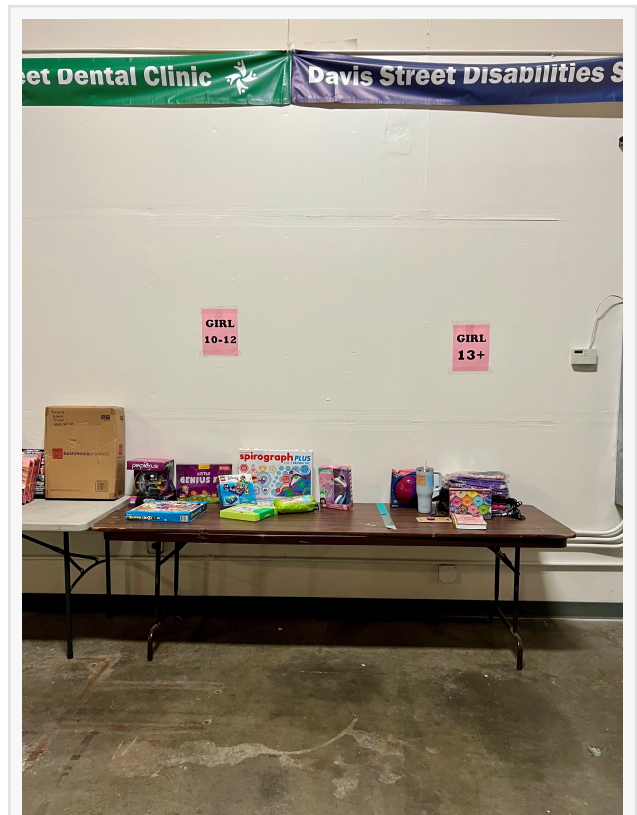

SAN LEANDRO, CA, UNITED STATES, December 19, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Davis Street Community Center is scheduled to distribute holiday baskets to more than 1,000 low-income households on December 23. However, the center is facing a significant toy shortage. The center still does not have toys for more than 800 children. Davis Street Community Center is calling on the community for support to ensure every child and family receives the holiday cheer they deserve.

Davis Street is committed to serving more than 800 families and 440 senior households and adults living with disabilities with a holiday basket this season. With just days left before the distribution, the center is in critical need of donations to meet its goal and make this season brighter for all those in need.

"We have seen an unprecedented shortage of toys this year, especially for children 9-13 years of age. We hope to receive enough toys to ensure every child in the family receives gifts this holiday season" said Daniel Johnson, Chief Executive Officer of Davis Street Community Center.

Davis Street's Holiday Basket Program provides low-income families with much-needed support and includes: a fresh turkey, fresh produce, new age appropriate toys and all the fixings for a complete holiday meal, brightening the holidays for the entire family. Seniors will receive a fresh chicken or ham, fresh produce and all the fixing for a complete holiday meal.

Community members are encouraged to contribute by dropping off new, unwrapped toys at 3081 Teagarden Street, San Leandro from 8am-6pm or by making a donation online to support the Holiday Basket Program at <https://davisstreet.org/ways-to-support-davis-street/donate-to->
