EINPresswire.com/ -- The V20 Group has successfully completed the sale of 550 West Avenue in Stamford, Connecticut, to an affiliate of Jornik Manufacturing. The property, a 55,000 square foot shallow bay industrial building, is 100% leased at the time of sale to four tenants, reflecting the successful leasing and stabilization of the asset under The V20 Group's ownership.

550 West Avenue, Stamford CT

The V20 Group acquired the property in 2022, when it was vacant, and undertook a comprehensive renovation to reposition and modernize the space. The renovation, which was completed in 2023, enhanced the building's appeal to potential tenants, allowing The V20 Group to fully lease the property in a competitive Stamford market.

We are very pleased with the outcome of this sale”
Joe Vaccaro, President of The V20 Group

“We are very pleased with the outcome of this sale,” said Joe Vaccaro, President of The V20 Group. “By investing in the property and strategically enhancing its appeal, we were able to create significant value, attract tenants, and ultimately harness our return. This transaction reflects our commitment to identifying and optimizing opportunities in the industrial real estate sector.”

The sale of 550 West Avenue marks another successful milestone in The V20 Group's portfolio of real estate investments. The V20 Group is continuing to repurpose out of favor properties in Stamford. This strategy fits with V20's last two acquisitions in that last few months with purchases at 120 Hamilton Avenue and 699 Canal St. With a focus on value creation and strategic redevelopment, The V20 Group continues to strengthen its position in the Stamford real estate market.
