The Silent Resilience of Navajo Nation

It is an incredible honor to have 'The Silent Resilience of Navajo Nation' included in this exhibition, and to return to Praxis Gallery once again.”

This marks the second time Raven Skylar Gallery's work has been featured at Praxis Gallery, reinforcing the gallery's reputation as a leader in landscape photography. "The Silent Resilience of Navajo Nation," will be available for viewing and purchase at the exhibition. It captures the essence of nature's beauty and endurance. The image reflects the exhibition's theme, exploring landscapes as both literal expressions and deeply personal, emotional narratives.

Juried by Sandrine Hermand-Grisel, the LANDSCAPES exhibition celebrates the diversity of landscape photography, featuring works that range from pristine depictions of nature to conceptual interpretations of landscapes as ideas. Praxis Gallery provides a platform for innovative and thought-provoking photography, and "The Silent Resilience of Navajo Nation" will be displayed alongside the works of other globally recognized artists.

“It is an incredible honor to have 'The Silent Resilience of Navajo Nation' included in this exhibition, and to return to Praxis Gallery once again. Landscapes are a timeless source of inspiration, and I'm excited to share this work with an audience that appreciates the profound stories they tell," says Rhiannon Tunnell, lead photographer at Raven Skylar Gallery.
