Huggers (LTH) Preschool, a Virginia-based, nationally acclaimed preschool model that focuses on sustainability education in an outdoor setting, has just announced its newest franchise partner, Amber Hutchison. The new — and first-ever — franchise location is set to open in February of 2025 under the name Raven Rocks Nature Preschool, bringing the award-winning LTH nature-based curriculum to Bluemont, Virginia.

I've designed this preschool to blend my love for early childhood education with the transformative power of outdoor learning.”

Amber Hutchison, franchise partner

According to Hutchison, a mother of two young children, she was inspired to take part in the Little Tree Huggers Preschool franchise family by her personal experience as a parent of two Little Tree Huggers students. She purchased a 7-acre property in Bluemont and specifically curated the space to help children learn, explore, and thrive within the LTH nature-focused program.

“I've designed this preschool to blend my love for early childhood education with the transformative power of outdoor learning. Each day at Raven Rocks is filled with hands-on exploration, creativity, and a strong connection with our beautiful earth,” she shared in a statement on her LTH webpage.

A former Staff Sergeant in the United States Marine Corps and a passionate advocate for outdoor childhood experience, Hutchison hails from Southwest Florida with an innate drive for nature, exploration, and adventure. She carries with her a deep experience in leadership, organization, and goal pursuit, all cemented by her time in the Department of Defense's logistics management.

Little Tree Huggers continues to expand its franchise family. The team offers interest free financing, in-depth training and ongoing support for all of its franchise partners.
