

428 by Zeynep and Konstantinos Paradeisopoulos Wins Iron A' Design Award in Homeware Design Category

Innovative candleholder design recognized for its unique geometric transitions and aesthetic appeal in the prestigious A' Design Award competition.

COMO, CO, ITALY, December 25, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award, a highly respected and influential design competition, has announced Zeynep and Konstantinos Paradeisopoulos as a recipient of the esteemed Iron A' Design Award in the Homeware Design category for their exceptional work, "428." This recognition highlights the significance of the 428 candleholder within the homeware industry, showcasing its innovative design and superior craftsmanship.

428

The 428 candleholder's award-winning design aligns with current trends in the homeware industry, which emphasize unique aesthetic appeal, functionality, and innovative production methods. This recognition underscores the relevance of Zeynep and Konstantinos Paradeisopoulos's work to both industry professionals and consumers seeking high-quality, visually striking decorative items for their homes.

The 428 candleholder stands out for its distinctive geometric transitions, evolving from a square base to an octagonal tip. This design concept not only showcases the beauty of the emerging curves but also highlights the problem-solving aspect of design. The addition of a brass tip enhances the candleholder's protection from heat, while the intricate geometrical design resembles a miniature architectural piece when positioned on a table.

Winning the Iron A' Design Award in the Homeware Design category serves as a testament to Zeynep and Konstantinos Paradeisopoulos's commitment to excellence and innovation. This recognition is expected to inspire future projects and designs from the duo, as they continue to push the boundaries of homeware design and contribute to the advancement of the industry.
