

Introducing the "FreshStart" Sober Living Program in Pueblo, Colorado

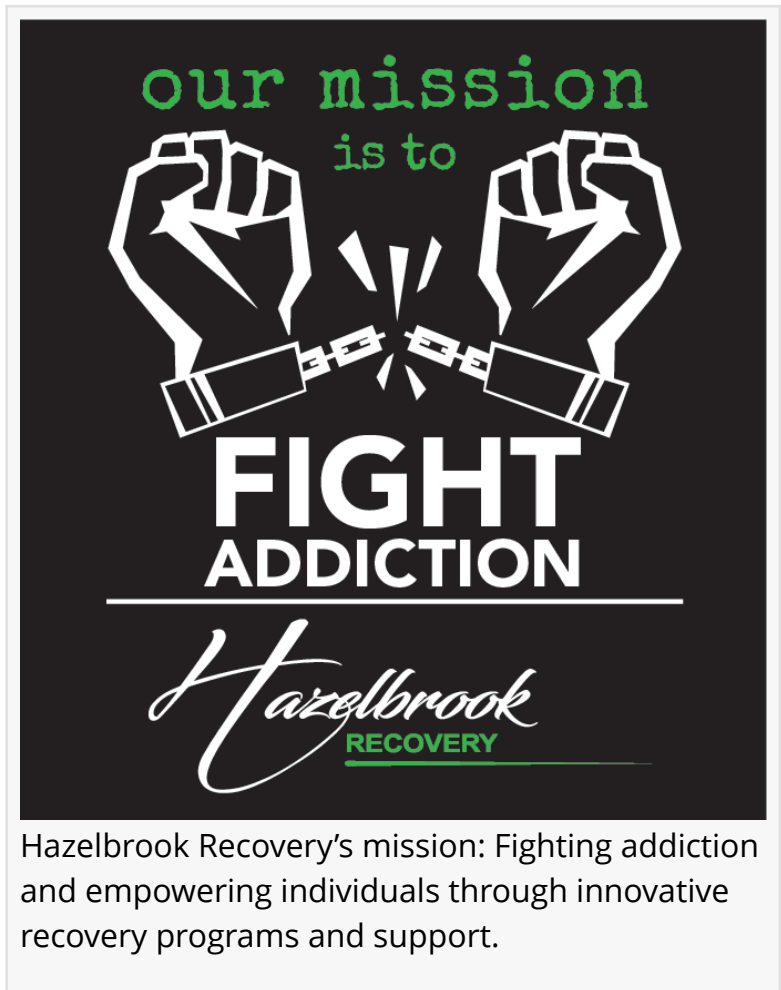

Hazelbrook launches the FreshStart Sober Living Program in Pueblo, Colorado

PUEBLO COLORADO, CO, UNITED STATES, January 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Hazelbrook Sober Living's FreshStart Program just launched in Pueblo, Colorado. This unique program combines the stability of sober living with innovative peer coaching and work-based training and is designed to support individuals on their journey to long-term sobriety. It is the first program of its kind in the region, tailored to meet the unique needs of Southern Colorado's recovery community.

The 'FreshStart' program is the brainchild of a team of experienced addiction recovery professionals who saw a need for a more comprehensive approach to sober living. 'We recognized that traditional sober living homes often lack the necessary support and structure for individuals to fully transition back into society successfully,' said Owner/Operator Owen Taylor. 'That's why we developed a program that provides a safe and sober environment and specialty peer coaching to assist residents in sourcing meaningful employment opportunities; this comprehensive approach allows individuals to build a strong foundation for long-term recovery through work and sobriety.'

Peer Coaching and Clinical Support: Every Step of the Way

The program integrates peer coaching and clinical therapy support to connect residents with mentors who have walked similar paths. These peer coaches play a crucial role in providing encouragement, accountability, and practical advice, fostering a supportive community where individuals can thrive.

Hazelbrook Recovery's mission: Fighting addiction and empowering individuals through innovative recovery programs and support.
