

Lumenai Named Winner of CIO Awards for the Best Multi-Asset Portfolios

Lumenai Investments has been named the 2024 CIO Industry Innovation Award winner for the Best Multi-Asset (stocks/bonds/credit/commodities) Portfolios.

STAMFORD, CT, UNITED STATES, January 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Lumenai Investments, a quantitative and AI-driven investment manager, has been named the winner of the 2024 CIO Industry Innovation Award for the Best Multi-Asset Portfolios in recognition of its AI-driven GO Quality and GO Dividends multi-asset solutions.

Since 2010, CHIEF INVESTMENT OFFICER, a division of ISS Market Intelligence, has recognized institutional asset owners and the asset managers and providers serving them with its annual Industry Innovation Awards. Nominations are called for in May, and finalists, selected by the CIO's Editorial staff, are announced in October.

All finalists fill out an application for the awards. There is no fee to participate. Applications are reviewed, and the CIO Editorial staff selects winners. Winners are announced at the December annual Industry Innovation Awards Dinner in New York City.

Based in Stamford, CT, Lumenai is one of the first firms to offer AI-powered investment management as a service. It's an outsourced quantitative, AI-powered investment and reporting platform that aims to make investing effortless for financial professionals by simplifying and automating portfolio research, development, implementation, and reporting.

GO Quality and GO Dividends are AI-driven multi-asset portfolios designed to generate alpha and outperform their benchmarks while taking similar risks. GO Quality emphasizes stocks with strong balance sheets, high profitability, and stable earnings, while Gideon Dividends seeks to
