Melbourne, Australia — Global Manpower Solutions has announced its official rebranding to GetTalent Pty Ltd, effective January 1, 2025. The new name reflects the company's evolving focus on addressing Australia's critical skills shortage and providing tailored workforce solutions to businesses across diverse industries.

The transition to GetTalent marks a strategic shift toward a stronger emphasis on a local-first recruitment strategy. The company aims to leverage Australia's diverse and skilled workforce by prioritising local talent while maintaining its capability to meet specialised needs through an established offshore talent pool. With a global recruitment network spanning multiple countries, GetTalent ensures seamless integration of international candidates into the Australian workforce when required.

Impact on Clients and Partners

The rebranding does not impact the company's services or commitments. Clients and partners can expect the same quality and dedication in addressing workforce challenges. GetTalent remains focused on matching candidates to roles that align with businesses' needs, ensuring sustained growth and success across industries.

This rebranding represents our commitment to helping Australian businesses tackle the skills shortage head-on by providing them with the best talent, locally and globally."
