

Skicka Buketter Expands Reach to Major US Cities and the Midwest

Skicka Buketter, a premier online flower delivery service, is excited to announce its expansion to all major cities across the United States, including key regions in the Midwest. This strategic growth enables the company to provide faster, more personalized flower delivery services while fostering relationships with local florists in cities such as New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, and Dallas.

Strengthening Connections with Local Florists

The expansion is built on partnerships with local florists, ensuring that customers receive fresh, high-quality floral arrangements crafted by skilled artisans in their communities. By collaborating with these florists, Skicka Buketter is enhancing its service quality while supporting local economies.

“Our mission is to deliver moments of joy through beautifully crafted flowers,” said Anna Johansson, CEO of Skicka Buketter. “Expanding to the U.S. allows us to connect with talented florists across the country, bringing our customers closer to their loved ones with the help of local expertise and creativity.”

Focus on Local Economies and Sustainability

A cornerstone of Skicka Buketter’s expansion strategy is its commitment to sustainability. By sourcing flowers locally, the company reduces long-distance transportation, minimizing its carbon footprint and ensuring fresher blooms for customers. This approach not only supports eco-friendly practices but also bolsters local businesses by providing them with increased visibility and opportunities.

“Partnering with florists in the U.S. helps us to operate more sustainably and responsibly,” added Johansson. “We are proud to contribute to both environmental efforts and the success of small businesses in these communities.”

Bringing Faster and Better Service Nationwide

With its U.S. expansion, Skicka Buketter is positioned to deliver unparalleled service to customers nationwide. Whether it’s sending flowers for special occasions like anniversaries, birthdays, or holidays, or simply brightening someone’s day, the company’s expanded network ensures timely and reliable delivery.
