

Hyyve, Canada's Transformative Real Estate Marketplace, Adds Daniel Foch to Advisory Board

Hyyve, Canada's first home listing bidding platform, welcomes Daniel Foch to its Advisory Board. With 15+ years of experience, Daniel will drive growth.

TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA, January 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Hyyve is delighted to announce the appointment of Daniel Foch to its Advisory Board. With over 15 years of experience in the Canadian residential real estate industry, Daniel's extensive expertise and innovative approach are set to significantly contribute to Hyyve's strategic growth and development.

Hyyve is an innovative real estate platform that transforms the traditional home-selling process by enabling real estate agents to bid on the right to represent the seller and sell the home. Agents compete by submitting detailed proposals, which may include services such as staging, painting, marketing strategies, and their commission rates. This unique model ensures that sellers not only receive upfront compensation but also benefit from multiple competitive offers, giving them greater transparency, choice, and value when selecting an agent. Hyyve's mission is to create a more transparent and seller-friendly approach to real estate transactions.

Daniel currently serves as the Chief Real Estate Officer at Valery.ca, a Canadian real estate brokerage that leverages technology to empower Canadians in making smarter housing decisions. Valery.ca bridges the gap between data and people by providing real-time listings, data-driven insights, and AI-enhanced tools to facilitate informed real estate choices.

In addition to his role at Valery.ca, Daniel is a licensed real estate broker in Ontario and holds a Bachelor of Commerce degree from the University of Guelph, specializing in real estate and
