RECHARGES, a forward-thinking company specializing in mobile charging solutions, is proud to announce that it is actively seeking strategic partners to help establish a network of mobile charging stations across Canada and the United States. This groundbreaking initiative aims to transform the travel experience by offering travelers a convenient, accessible, and sustainable solution to stay connected while exploring new destinations, all while promoting local tourism and boosting regional economies.

A Growing Demand for Accessible Charging Solutions

In today's digital world, staying connected is essential. According to Booking.com, 83% of travelers actively seek accessible charging stations. Recharges addresses this need by providing portable battery rental stations, allowing users to charge their devices anytime, anywhere. These stations will be strategically placed in high-traffic areas like airports, shopping centers, tourist attractions, hotels, and events to ensure that visitors can stay powered up no matter where they go.

Revolutionizing Destination Tourism and Local Business Engagement

Recharges takes mobile charging to the next level by integrating built-in screens at each station.

These screens will offer local businesses, events, and attractions an opportunity to directly engage visitors with real-time information about things to do nearby. Not only will this drive foot traffic to local businesses, but it will also keep visitors engaged for longer periods, encouraging them to explore more of the destination and contributing to the local economy.

Moreover, the ability to stay connected provides an added layer of safety and security for travelers. With constant access to their mobile devices, visitors can quickly connect to emergency services, find necessary resources, or stay informed in case of unforeseen situations—whether it be changes in local events or urgent matters requiring immediate attention.

Strategic Partnership and Sponsorship Opportunities

Recharges is seeking strategic partners and sponsors across the tourism, retail, hospitality, and event sectors to help expand its network of charging stations. This is a unique opportunity for businesses to get involved early in this exciting initiative, securing valuable exposure and positioning themselves as leaders in promoting the future of connected tourism.

We're excited to offer a solution that not only improves the convenience of traveling but also enhances the safety and security of visitors!”

By partnering or sponsoring Watts Up Recharges, your brand can be part of this innovative solution from its early stages, gaining visibility in a rapidly growing market. Partners will benefit from association with a modern, high-visibility service that enhances the visitor experience, promotes local businesses, and increases engagement with target audiences in key tourist destinations. These limited opportunities ensure that businesses involved now will have a prominent presence as the network grows across North America.

“We’re excited to offer a solution that not only improves the convenience of traveling but also enhances the safety and security of visitors,” said Greg Payotte, Founder of Recharges. “Our network, which includes built-in screens at each station, enables visitors to access local information in real-time, while the connectivity ensures they are never out of touch—whether for practical needs, exploring attractions, or addressing urgent situations.”

Supporting Local Communities and Sustainability

By promoting local tourism and encouraging longer stays, Recharges helps increase the visibility of local businesses, allowing them to attract visitors who are eager to explore. Furthermore, with an emphasis on sustainability through the use of rechargeable batteries, Recharges is committed to reducing the environmental footprint of tourism while providing an eco-friendly solution for the growing need for mobile charging.
