

"Overflow": Anjalts Unveils Her First Song of 2025 in a Whole New Soundscape

Anjalts Latest New Single, "Overflow" set to launch by IXO Music and Available Globally on January 10

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, January 7, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Anjalts kicks off 2025 with the global release of her latest single, 'Overflow,' on January 10. This top 40 new wave/pop track is the fourth release from her upcoming third album, which is currently in production. Following the success of her holiday single 'December Snow,' Anjalts continues to craft elegant, softer soundscapes that captivate listeners, reminiscent of the allure and mystique of her first two LPs.

"As an artist, Anjalts redefines an element of balance that brings in a freedom of creation without all the hype," said Acen Sinclair, IXO Music's lead studio engineer. He also praised her violin arrangement in 'Overflow,' describing it as "an utterly brilliant part that drives the song right from the start." With 'Overflow,' Anjalts once again proves her mastery of crafting melodies that linger long after the song ends.

This single also showcases Anjalts' ability to merge poetic lyricism with intricate instrumentation. With diverse arrangements in many styles of genre compositions, Anjalts explores the contemplation of being closed-minded. 'Overflow' challenges communicating with someone who assumes they know more about every topic instead of staying open to new perspectives.

guitar, and subtle electric guitar that pulsates the narrative to the forefront. An infectious overlay of harmonies and minimal production draws the focus on the lyrics.

"This album feels like a journey to uncover the answers to all my questions through personal reflection and music," shares Anjalts. "With 'Overflow,' it's about embracing the process of learning rather than assuming you already know everything. Sometimes, realizing how little you know can be liberating—like keeping your glass half-empty and allowing some space to grow and evolve into a better version of ourselves."
