

Rachel Purcell Releases Debut Centricity Music Radio Single, "Show Up"

Country Star Returns to Christian Music Roots With Hopeful, Energetic Tune

NASHVILLE, TN, UNITED STATES, January 10, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Muscle Shoals, AL native, songwriter and dynamic vocalist Rachel Purcell releases her debut Centricity Music radio single, "Show Up," which is available now at streaming and digital outlets worldwide today (Jan. 10) via <https://rachelpurcell.lnk.to/ShowUp>. Mirroring Purcell's personality with an upbeat melody and optimistic lyrics, "Show Up" grasps fans with the relatable yearning for God to make Himself known in the midst of the ordinary. This song serves as the first big step in Purcell's move to Christian music after years of critically-acclaimed success in the country genre under maiden name Rachel Wammack.

Purcell, a lifelong Christian music fan who grew up singing in church, co-wrote "Show Up" with Trannie Anderson (Lainey Wilson, Anne Wilson) and the song's producer, Jeff Pardo (Matthew West, Katy Nichole). The soulful pop selection showcases a vibrant retro flavor reminiscent of the sounds that originated in Muscle Shoals.

God has shown up for me in times when I had no idea what to do or how to pick myself up or even when I didn't want to get out of bed.”

Rachel Purcell

“God has shown up for me in times when I had no idea what to do or how to pick myself up or even when I didn't want to get out of bed,” shares Purcell. “Sometimes you write something you think you're writing for other people, only to later realize you needed it. I feel like I wrote this song for 'future me' as much as I wrote it for 'present me.' I'm praying this song will be helpful for a lot of people, meeting them where they're at, like it met me."

("Show Up" chorus)

Show up and fill my cup from empty to overflowing

Show up and give me what I'm needing in this moment

If there's a mountain, there's a mountain gonna move

If there's a fire, there's a fire that you'll walk me through

Every promise that you promise is true

Can't wait to see what you're gonna do

When you show up, show up

Purcell signed an exclusive, worldwide recording and publishing contract with Centricity Music last year following a season of major label success that included collaborations with Blessing Offor, Reba McEntire, Rascal Flatts and Trisha Yearwood. She releases "Show Up" as the first of several new songs of praise that align with her most authentic self, promising additional tracks in 2025 that similarly showcase her unwavering faith.

About Rachel Purcell:

Since releasing her debut single "Damage" in 2018, Muscle Shoals, AL native Rachel Purcell (fka Rachel Wammack) has been touted for her "powerful, soaring pipes" (Billboard) and her raw and honest storytelling. The rising star and dynamic vocalist was named one of Rolling Stone's "10 New Country Artists You Need To Know," part of CMT's "Next Women of Country" and Bobby Bones' "Women of iHeartCountry," and deemed an "Artist to Watch" by Pandora, Entertainment Weekly and MusicRow. Featured in other trendsetting outlets like People, Taste of Country and Paste Magazine, Purcell has also performed overseas and shared stages with country music icons such as Trisha Yearwood, Rascal Flatts and Reba McEntire. Releasing "When I Say Amen" in 2020, co-written with Matt Maher, Purcell unveiled her depth and breadth both as a songwriter and a vocalist, foreshadowing her faith-inspired approach to music and fresh batch of songs to be revealed this year.
