powerhouse of advanced waterproofing technologies, proudly announces Carl Fernandez as our International Engineer—an industry leader poised to elevate global infrastructure protection to unprecedented heights.

With over five years of experience in the construction and engineering industry, Carl brings an exceptional combination of skill and innovation to Alchemco’s global mission. His expertise in civil engineering, project management, and technical drafting offers fresh perspectives and cutting-edge solutions, driving our commitment to revolutionize waterproofing technologies.

A licensed Civil Engineer, Carl earned his Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering from Saint Louis University in Baguio City, Benguet, and achieved his credentials by excelling in the PRC Board Exam. With advanced training in AutoCAD, Revit Architecture, and occupational safety, he has consistently delivered innovative solutions for complex projects. Starting his career as a Site Engineer, Carl gained hands-on experience in pile testing activities, including integrity and load testing, establishing a strong foundation for his unmatched technical proficiency.

Carl’s leadership, attention to detail, and ability to navigate complex project requirements have led to significant success in managing teams, coordinating intricate activities, and ensuring compliance with rigorous technical standards. His expertise in cost analysis, budget management, and quality assurance reflects his relentless commitment to excellence and innovation in the construction field.

“Bringing Carl Fernandez on board is a transformative moment for Alchemco,” said Mario Baggio,

CEO of Alchemco. "His expertise and forward-thinking approach are exactly what we need as we expand our global presence. Carl embodies the innovation, leadership, and passion for excellence that defines our brand. We are thrilled to welcome him to the Alchemco family and look forward to the extraordinary impact he will make in shaping the future of our industry."

Join us in celebrating this exciting milestone as we welcome Carl Fernandez to the Alchemco family. His expertise, innovation, and passion for excellence make him a true Alchemist, and we eagerly anticipate the groundbreaking contributions he will bring as we charge forward into 2025 and beyond!
