Chemical, and Others): Global Opportunity Analysis and Industry Forecast, 2021-2030".

Prime determinants of growth:

Use of zinc acetate for medicines & astringents, expansion of animal feed market, and surge in demand for wood preservation chemicals drive the growth of the global zinc acetate market. However, availability of other zinc based alternatives hinders the market growth. On the other hand, rise in use of zinc acetate in other applications presents new opportunities in the coming years.
