Canopy Connect powers automated insurance verification through consumer-permissioned data sharing. From Encompass, a user can order a verification and send a verification email to a borrower. The borrower clicks the link, finds their insurance carrier, and signs in with their carrier credentials. In seconds, verified policy information and documents are available directly in the lender's Encompass loan file.

"This new integration with Encompass reflects our commitment to helping lenders more efficiently verify insurance," said Tolga Tezel, founder and CEO of Canopy Connect. "Canopy Connect is transforming a process that used to require time wasted on hold and multiple reminders, into an automated 30-second transaction."
