ABOUT JIMMIE JOHNSON

Jimmie Johnson is not only one of the greatest racecar drivers of the modern era, but he is also one of the most accomplished professional athletes in sports. A seven-time NASCAR Cup Series champion, Johnson remains the only racecar driver in history to be named The Associated Press Male Athlete of the Year. Throughout Johnson's career, he and the No. 48 team of Hendrick

Motorsports recorded 83 wins in 686 starts. He shares the record of seven championship titles with NASCAR Hall of Fame legends Richard Petty and Dale Earnhardt, Sr. After Johnson's final full-time season in NASCAR, he spent two seasons in the INDYCAR Series competing for 14-time INDYCAR champions, Chip Ganassi Racing.

Today, Johnson continues to break new ground daily off the track. At the end of the 2022 season, NASCAR Cup Series team Legacy Motor Club announced that Johnson entered into an ownership agreement with Maury Gallagher and the original founder of the team and namesake, Richard Petty, "The King."
