The biggest health threat from smoke is from fine particles. These microscopic particles can penetrate deep into your lungs. They can cause various health problems, from burning eyes and a runny nose.”

warns that “The biggest health threat from smoke is from fine particles. These microscopic particles can penetrate deep into your lungs. They can cause a range of health problems, from burning eyes and a runny nose to aggravated chronic heart and lung diseases.”. Medify Air recommends running air purifiers on high in all areas threatened by wildfire smoke. “We know how damaging unhealthy air can be, and how large of an impact these air purifiers can have. The impact of these fires is devastating, and we want to do all we can to help.” (Jack Austin, Executive Vice President, Medify Air)

Medify Air is committed to clean indoor air and wants to help the community in Los Angeles. It is important during a time of need to come together and do whatever you can to help all the individuals that are impacted. When smoke is heavy outside for a long period of time, fine particles can build up indoors even though you may not be able to see them. Running an air purifier is a great way to remove those smoke particles.
