"Petrodollar to Digital Yuan: China, the Gulf, and the 21st Century Path to De-Dollarization"

Authored by Diana Choyleva, Founder and Chief Economist at Enodo Economics and a Senior Fellow on the Chinese economy at the Asia Society Policy Institute's Center for China Analysis.

Enodo Economics, an independent macroeconomic, political, and geopolitical forecasting company focused on China and its global impact, is proud to announce the publication of a special report, "Petrodollar to Digital Yuan: China, the Gulf, and the 21st Century Path to De-Dollarization". This report, produced in collaboration with the Asia Society Policy Institute's Center for China Analysis, is authored by Diana Choyleva, who is recognised as one of the foremost experts on the Chinese economy.

The comprehensive report explores the future of the Petrodollar system, analyzing how China's development of alternative payment systems, particularly its digital yuan and the mBridge platform, could transform cross-border energy trade settlements. It also investigates how Saudi Arabia's Vision 2030 economic transformation might play a pivotal role in reshaping global currency dynamics.

Key highlights of the report include:

- How the adoption of China's digital yuan and mBridge platform could influence global trade patterns.

- The potential for Gulf states, led by Saudi Arabia, to drive de-dollarization in energy markets.
- Insights into the evolving interplay between geopolitics, technology, and economic reform.

The report will be available for download on 15th January at 6pm GMT via this link.
