CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES, January 15, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Global Restaurant Leadership Conference (GRLC), the restaurant industry's premier global event, presented by Informa Connect, is set to make its European debut at the 4-star W Barcelona in Barcelona, Spain from 17-19 November, 2025. This marks a significant milestone in GRLC's history, following its successful first event on US soil in 2023 in Miami, and a strategic hiatus in 2024 to enhance the conference experience.

"After several years in Dubai, Singapore, and Miami, we took a deliberate pause to reimagine and elevate GRLC," said Chris Keating, EVP of Conferences at Informa Connect. "We're thrilled to return in 2025, choosing Barcelona as our first European destination to underscore our commitment to global perspectives in the restaurant industry."

GRLC 2025 is poised to bring together senior executives from top restaurant chains across Europe, MENA, Asia-Pacific, and North America. The conference will serve as a hub for global foodservice leaders to explore new solutions, share ideas, and discuss the future of the world market.

The event will feature premium networking opportunities and an expert-led agenda focusing on leadership stories, successful strategies, and the latest industry trends. GRLC is renowned for hosting speakers from industry giants such as Yum! Brands, Chick-Fil-A, Inspire Brands, and Shake Shack, setting high expectations for the caliber of speakers at the 2025 conference.

This executive retreat features a solutions-driven agenda focused on making a real impact on the industry. Attendees will engage in discussions and problem-solving sessions around critical topics such as franchising, international expansion, labor, operations, technology, finance, sustainability, and more.

GRLC offers complimentary registration to qualified restaurant executives with 50+ units, operating in 2+ countries. Registration details will be announced in the coming weeks.
