

Alliance Environmental Group Takes Action to Help Los Angeles Wildfire Victims

Leading environmental services provider offers comprehensive cleanup & air quality solutions for homes and businesses affected by recent Los Angeles wildfires.

AZUSA, CA, UNITED STATES, January 17, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Alliance Environmental Group, a premier environmental and indoor air quality services provider, announces immediate assistance for Los Angeles residents and businesses affected by recent wildfires. The company is deploying specialized teams to help with cleanup operations and air quality restoration across impacted areas.

"We are currently doing a Supply Drive to deliver necessities to those in need.

Alliance and our partners are contributing and collecting donations for those affected by the recent devastating fires throughout Los Angeles Country," said Jeff McLean, CEO, Alliance Environmental Group.

Alliance is accepting first aid kits, PPE, work gloves, boots or helmets, bottled water, packaged drinks, boxes, barrels, garbage bags, mops, brooms, rakes, rags, scrub brushes, batteries, flashlights, device chargers, work or rain boots for the Supply Drive and interested individual and business can contact the company to contribute to the Drive.

"Our teams are ready to provide immediate support with our comprehensive suite of services, including soot and ash cleaning, air scrubber rentals, specialized HVAC cleaning, and asbestos removal," highlighted McLean.

The company's emergency response initiative addresses critical health concerns related to wildfire aftermath. Potentially toxic residue from burned structures can contain hazardous materials, including asbestos, arsenic, and lead, requiring professional remediation to ensure safe living conditions.

“If your home or business was exposed to wildfire smoke and ash, you want to make sure it and its contents get properly inspected by an environment consultant, cleaned/treated, and restored to pre-exposure condition,” said McLean.

Alliance can help ensure excellent air quality by providing negative air machine rentals, soot & ash cleaning, and charcoal air filters for homes or businesses affected by wildfires in Los Angeles.

Alliance Environmental’s comprehensive wildfire cleanup services include:

- Professional soot and ash removal
- Indoor air quality improvement
- HVAC system cleaning and sanitization
- Air scrubber and negative air machine rentals
- Specialized cleaning for fire-damaged properties
- Ash and debris left by wildfires could potentially contain harmful substances, including arsenic, lead, and asbestos, which pose severe health risks. Alliance Environmental’s services adhere to stringent OSHA and EPA guidelines, guaranteeing safe and thorough remediation.

With over 26 years of experience and $2,000,000 in True Occurrence Insurance, Alliance Environmental ensures the highest standards of safety and professionalism.
