The program includes the highly effective Sentricon Termite Baiting System, which has been proven to eliminate termite colonies and protect homes from future infestations. This system is environmentally friendly and does not require any drilling or trenching, making it a safe and convenient option for homeowners. In addition, the program also includes quarterly pest control services to keep homes free from a variety of pests such as ants, roaches, spiders, and more.

One of the key benefits of this program is the full termite warranty that comes with it. This means that if any termite activity is detected during the warranty period, Universal Pest & Termite will provide free re-treatment to eliminate the infestation. This gives homeowners peace of mind knowing that their homes are protected from the costly damage that termites can cause.

"We are thrilled to offer this new program to our customers in Hampton Roads. Our team has worked hard to create a comprehensive solution that addresses both termite and pest control needs. With our Sentricon Termite Baiting System and quarterly pest control services, homeowners can rest assured that their homes are protected from unwanted pests," said George Pilkington, owner of Universal Pest & Termite.
