The AI Toolbox, launched today, provides independent auto repair shop owners with industry-specific prompts and tools designed to address staffing shortages and help them hire automotive technicians faster. By joining the Technician Find Skool Membership Community, shop owners gain access to proven recruiting templates, training modules, live expert coaching, and a supportive network of growth-minded peers—all at no cost.

A Game-Changer for Auto Repair Hiring

The automotive repair industry continues to face a critical shortage of skilled technicians. According to the TechForce Foundation's 2023 Technician Supply & Demand Report, the demand for new auto repair technicians exceeds the supply by over 100,000 annually, creating hiring challenges that jeopardize shop operations and growth.

Technician Find's AI Toolbox offers shop owners a streamlined solution to overcome these challenges by providing:

- Custom GPT Prompts: Exclusive AI tools tailored to optimize job postings, attract candidates, and streamline the hiring process.
- Fill-in-the-Blank Templates: Save time and ensure quality with pre-written job ads and recruitment communications.
- Live Expert Coaching: Receive guidance on integrating AI into hiring strategies from industry experts like Technician Find founder, Christopher T. Lawson.
- Networking Opportunities: Join a private community of shop owners focused on recruiting and retention best practices.

A Vision for Success

“Staffing challenges are one of the biggest barriers to growth for independent auto repair shops,” said Christopher T. Lawson, founder of Technician Find. “Our Shop Owner’s AI Toolbox combines cutting-edge technology with proven recruitment systems, giving shop owners the tools to build high-performance teams. We’re excited to offer this resource for free to help shops thrive.”

Why AI and Why Now?

With AI technology advancing rapidly, shop owners now have access to tools that were once out of reach. The Shop Owner’s AI Toolbox helps repair shops create high-quality content for job postings, streamline candidate communications, and discover new AI-powered solutions as they emerge.
