

CodaPet expands compassionate in-home pet euthanasia services in Atlanta, GA

The veterinarian-owned startup empowers a network of veterinarians who provide in-home euthanasia to ease the passing of pets at home, surrounded by loved ones.

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, January 23, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CodaPet has introduced a new licensed veterinarian to expand its services in Atlanta, GA. The company provides peaceful in-home pet euthanasia through a network of compassionate and licensed veterinarians who offer end-of-life care for pets at home. In-home pet euthanasia is the best experience for dogs and cats and their families because their home is where they feel most familiar and comfortable. “It is my wish that every family in Atlanta become aware of at-home pet euthanasia so they may provide a peaceful and compassionate end-of-life experience for their beloved pets when their time comes,” says Dr. Bethany

Hsia, a co-founder of CodaPet. “As an in-home euthanasia veterinarian, I repeatedly hear the heartfelt gratitude and the relief a family feels when they have been able to grant their pet this gift.”

Dr. Bethany Hsia, Dr. Gary Hsia, and Dr. Karen Whala are co-founders and veterinarians of CodaPet. They share a passion for increasing both customer access and awareness by empowering a network of veterinarians who provide compassion and professional care to more pets and their families in a familiar environment.

“I am excited to partner with CodaPet as a learning experience in business and end-of-life pet care. The support I am receiving to get started translates into support I can pass on to my patients and their families,” says Dr. Megan Duvall. Dr. Duvall brings over 20 years of veterinary experience and deep compassion to her work, offering at-home pet euthanasia services that prioritize dignity, comfort, and peace. A graduate of the Virginia-Maryland College of Veterinary Medicine in 2003, she has dedicated her career to supporting pets and their families through all stages of life.

Having worked in small animal medicine, emergency care, and even zoo medicine, her journey has taken her from the DC suburbs to California and back to Atlanta, where she now resides with her family. Dr. Duvall understands the profound bond we share with our pets and is honored to support families during life's most tender and challenging moments.

Dr. Duvall services Atlanta, Decatur, Avondale Estates, Clarkston, Stone Mountain, Tucker, Norcross, Lilburn, Peachtree Corners, Smyrna, Snellville, Chamblee, Brookhaven, and surrounding areas.

How In-home Pet Euthanasia Works

Through CodaPet's website, pet parents can easily book in-home pet euthanasia performed by a licensed vet.

Before the appointment, the vet contacts the family to address any questions or concerns they might have.

The vet assists the family by going over the diagnosis and applying a quality-of-life assessment to objectively assess the pet's health and ensure there is no uncertainty about the need for euthanasia.

For those who need support with aftercare, CodaPet can also assist with transportation and cremation services.

The visit takes, on average, one hour. Pet parents have a window of time to be with their pets privately before and after the euthanasia procedure, which lasts about 15 minutes. The vet only starts the euthanasia process when everyone is ready. This helps bring closure to all family members involved in the end-of-life care of a pet.

Benefits of In-home Pet Euthanasia include:

1. Compassion: In-home pet euthanasia allows for a more compassionate approach to end-of-life care. Pets can be surrounded by their loved ones, receive individual attention and care, and pass away peacefully in a familiar environment.

2. Comfort: One major benefit of in-home pet euthanasia is the comfort it provides to both the pet and their owners. The familiar surroundings of home can help reduce anxiety and stress for pets, making the process more peaceful. In addition, being surrounded by loved ones can provide a sense of support and comfort during a very difficult time.

3. Control: In-home pet euthanasia also allows pet owners to have more control over the experience. They can choose the time and place of the euthanasia, as well as who will be present. In addition, in-home euthanasia allows owners to personalize the experience, including choosing the location, music, lighting, and other factors that can make the experience more meaningful.

4. Closure: Being able to say goodbye in a meaningful way can be an essential part of the grieving process. In-home pet euthanasia allows for a more intimate farewell, which can provide closure and help with the healing process.

In-home Pet Euthanasia Costs

The starting price of in-home euthanasia starts at $300 in Atlanta. The aftercare and cremation price begins at $110 and varies depending on factors such as the driving distance, the pet's size, and the option for private or communal cremation.
