EAST SUSSEX, UNITED KINGDOM, January 20, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SGS is pleased to announce that its trade facilitation services team in the UK has achieved HMRC Excise Registered Consignor status.

The award enables SGS to initiate the excise movement in the HMRC Excise Movement and Control System (EMCS) with authorisation to raise Electronic Administrative Documents (e-ADs) and generate Administrative Reference Codes (ARCs). The result will be the seamless movement of goods from any UK seaport or Eurotunnel entry point to warehouses with minimal delays.

Import duty declaration and VAT (where applicable) will be handled by SGS, while excise duty remains suspended during transit to the bonded warehouse.

Andy Maber, Business Development Manager, SGS said: "We are delighted to gain Registered Consignor status from HMRC to ensure consignments are fully compliant from all UK ports to bonded warehouses.

"This will be welcome news to our clients involved in the manufacture, distribution and movement of excise goods who will benefit from an easier and faster customs clearance process at UK ports."
