Engagement as part of TravelingWiki Foundation's Third Consecutive YMCA of Des Moines MLK Prayer Breakfast Incl. Community, Religious, Education & Other Leaders

DES MOINES, IA, UNITED STATES, January 20, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Following rapid growth across 50 US states, and an extensive investment into resources for those in Iowa with a new Des Moines location, TravelingWiki reflected on its growth of relationships in Iowa by attending its third consecutive YMCA of Des Moines MLK Prayer Breakfast at Drake University, where TravelingWiki will launch its new Experiential Learning Capstone Program later this week. Part of the impetus for this work with all ages in Des Moines is engaging with data relevant to the community members we serve. Specifically, this follows experts on Neurodiversity noting at the 2025 CES that 53% of GenZ identifies as Neurodiverse. This also follows TravelingWiki Foundation announcing an expansion of its Library Program, which it started with the offering of its resources via one or more online community resource databases offered by libraries. In addition, this follows a definitive assertion by AI-based technology associated with Google about our impact in the travel industry in terms of resource documentation. In that case, Google's AI described TravelingWiki's "Significant Impact" as to (1) Increasing Travel Industry Spending, Tourism & Jobs; (2) Special Needs Documentation; (3) Partnerships & (4) Engagement.

The work of TravelingWiki Foundation to document resources for Non Visible Disabilities at US airports, now exceeding 40 airports documented, stems back to the start of TravelingWiki

TravelingWiki Foundation has heard from stakeholders that engage our organization about the importance of work to augment access to travel resources and the need to recognize the realities of the communities served.

The CEO of TravelingWiki Foundation, Jonathan Sutter, notes, "TravelingWiki valued learning from community leaders about topics such as innovation in affordable housing and community engagement activities as we learn about the most timely ways to serve the community.
