Jenny Newman, publisher and MLA program manager, said: "It's a testament to D-Tech and the continued difference their Hold Lockers make to libraries that they have received yet another Platinum distinction from our judges."

A survey conducted by D-Tech last month, gathering responses from nearly 70 library customers in the US and UK, revealed that the most valued features of D-Tech's SMART Hold Lockers were integration with library catalog systems (76%) and 24/7 collection and return (63%).

Other benefits include weather-resistant design for indoor or outdoor installation, cloud-based management for easy staff operation and an expandable modular system to meet growing demands.

The MLA judges were particularly impressed with service quality, awarding a perfect score. One judge commented, "The locker systems have been great...they were instantly a hit with our community. The system software and hardware just work and have been outside in the Florida humidity the entire time."
