

Entech Appoints Jeffrey Garner as Vice President of Partner Experience

Entech Appoints Jeff Garner as VP of Partner Experience, Enhancing Engagement and Operational Excellence in Managed IT Services.

FORT MYERS, FL, UNITED STATES, January 21, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Entech, a leader in managed IT services, is thrilled to announce the appointment of Jeffrey "Jeff" Garner as Vice President of Partner Experience. Garner is a highly recognized information technology operations executive with extensive expertise across various sectors, including managed services, IT operations, infrastructure, private equity integration, and more.

Garner brings over 20 years of experience in directing managed services and business process outsourcing (BPO) operations. He has a proven track record of supporting Fortune 500 companies through major business process transformation and innovation initiatives. His strategic leadership has consistently driven growth and retention opportunities while enhancing client relationships and service delivery.

In his new role at Entech, Garner will leverage his extensive background to enhance partner engagement and drive operational excellence. He is known for his relentless self-starter attitude, excelling in demanding and complex environments. His ability to broker successful client-facing solutions in critical situations makes him the go-to leader for high-priority projects.
