Concierge Auctions is pleased to announce the success of its Arizona Car Week sale, where marquee luxury real estate auctioned alongside rare and collectible cars over the course of two days. Day one of bidding concluded live at the Arizona Biltmore on 23 January, where Sotheby's International Realty listings were exclusively auctioned as real estate gaveled live for the first time on the RM Sotheby's stage. Day two of bidding took place at the Andaz Scottsdale Resort on 24 January with spirited in-room bidding. The auctions, which streamed live to the world, achieved impressive white-glove results, with 100% of lots sold and over $230 million in aggregate bids placed.

"The success of our Arizona Car Week sales demonstrated the unique synergy between luxury real estate and rare automobiles, offering an unparalleled platform to connect buyers and sellers across these categories," said Krystal Aeby, President of Concierge Auctions. "These live auctions not only elevated the visibility of extraordinary properties but also showcased the innovative potential of cross-category promotion in luxury sales."

Conducted by Concierge Auctions' head auctioneer, Frank Trunzo, both days saw intense competition among buyers with a total of 21 property connoisseurs competing across North America, including 14 U.S. states.
