

NATIONAL SPACE SOCIETY ACCEPTING ENTRIES FOR THE ROTHBLATT SPACE SETTLEMENT COMPETITION

The Annual Martine Rothblatt Space Settlement in Our Lifetime Competition Closes on March 4, 2025

KENEDY SPACE CENTER, CA, UNITED STATES, January 23, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The National Space Society's Martine Rothblatt Space Settlement in Our Lifetime Business Plan Competition is still accepting submissions for its 2025 cash awards. This competition grants cash awards of $16,000, $10,000, and $6,000 USD for first, second, and third place for the top three best space settlement-related business plans received that reflect Dr. Rothblatt's vision for space settlement. Past winners have gone on to run successful space-related business and have even launched payloads to the Moon. The competition will accept submissions until midnight Pacific Time, March 4, 2025, and winners will be announced at the National Space Society's International Space Development Conference® (ISDC®) in June. For more information, see the competition website.

Dr. Rothblatt's views of the future of space settlement represent a grand vision for the human expansion into space—to live and prosper—over the next century.”

Isaac Arthur, President of the National Space Society

Dr. Rothblatt has been a pioneer in satellite communications, founding the Sirius XM radio network in 1990, and later became the chair and CEO of United Therapeutics, a biotechnology company devoted to prolonging human life. Dr. Rothblatt's trailblazing work in organ replacement has saved countless lives and will be a key technology in creating sustainable communities in space. You can learn more about the competition, and Dr. Rothblatt's vision—a key ingredient of a winning entry—at spacebizplan.nss.org.

This competition is not for merely an idea or a proposal, but for a complete preliminary business plan that outlines your vision and demonstrates its potential as a prosperous business endeavor that takes place in, utilizes, or leverages some aspect of cislunar space. To learn more about the parameters of a good space business plan, and better understand Dr. Rothblatt's vision, visit the competition website.

The competition is open to anyone, of any age, anywhere on Earth (local laws and restrictions may apply). Entered business plans will be adjudicated by senior National Space Society leaders with three finalists to be announced prior to the ISDC conference.

The poster features a background image of Earth from space. At the top, the title "space settlement in our lifetime prize" is written in a light blue, sans-serif font. Below the title, the text reads: "Enter the Space Settlement In Our Lifetime competition by submitting your business plan that addresses Dr. Martine Rothblatt's Vision for Space Settlement." In the center, there is a white box with the heading "prize amounts" and three categories: "KEPLER $16,000", "NEWTON $10,000", and "LAGRANGE $6,000". A small note below the prizes states: "(AIRFARE, LODGING, AND ADMISSION COSTS FOR ONE PERSON TO THE NATIONAL SPACE SOCIETY'S INTERNATIONAL SPACE DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCE* ARE INCLUDED)". Below the prizes, the text says: "Business plans from anyone, including international and youth participants, are welcomed. Final award decisions will be made by the National Space Society's Gerard K. O'Neill Voyagers Circle members." At the bottom, it says: "For more details on the competition go to: spacebizplan.nss.org" and includes the NSS logo.
