

AlmaLinux's Andrew Lukoshko To Speak at FOSDEM 2025

FORT MYERS, FL, UNITED STATES,
January 23, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ --

The AlmaLinux OS Foundation, the nonprofit that stewards the free and community-governed open source enterprise Linux distribution, today announced that Lead Architect Andrew Lukoshko will speak during this year's FOSDEM 2025 event taking place February 1-2 at the ULB Solbosch Campus in Brussels, Belgium.

Scheduled from 12-12:30 p.m. local time on Sunday, Lukoshko's session is titled, "From Manul to Kitten: 4 years of AlmaLinux Development Evolution." During FOSDEM 2025, AlmaLinux celebrates the 4-year anniversary of its very first beta version release. Since then, the development process has been constantly improving, with new ideas being incorporated and tools replaced with more efficient and advanced ones.

In his presentation, Lukoshko is set to share the AlmaLinux OS Foundation's experience in developing their distribution and the related services, while also outlining how AlmaLinux made certain decisions depending on emerging needs and external factors in order to continue to deliver and improve a high-quality distribution.

FOSDEM is a free event for software developers to meet, share ideas and collaborate. Every year, thousands of developers of free and open source software from all over the world gather at the event in Brussels. For more information on FOSDEM, visit <https://fosdem.org/2025/>.
