Last year, more than 500 journalists and attendees from 50 countries discovered new mobile and wireless tech products and services launched by participating companies at ShowStoppers @ MWC Barcelona 2024.

The judges include tech journalists from Geekspin.co, <https://geekspin.co/>; Phandroid.com, <https://phandroid.com/>; Ubergizmo.com, <https://www.ubergizmo.com/>; and @IsaDoes, <https://www.ubergizmo.com/>.

"We look forward, again, to working with innovators, mobile industry leaders and SMBs to help turn new ideas into business deals, to help them meet journalists and influencers, to help the media discover more new devices, apps, services and mobile technologies for work, home and play, and to help drive coverage," said Dave Leon, partner, ShowStoppers.

ShowStoppers at MWC Barcelona 2025 is scheduled for Sunday, 2 March, at the Torre Melina, a Gran Mella Hotel, in Barcelona, and will preview, for media and journalists, the newest innovations in the mobile ecosystem, from smart cities to mobility, services, apps, devices,
