

TSAOG Orthopaedics & Spine Welcomes Five Distinguished Specialists to its Medical Team

Leading South Texas orthopedic practice expands pain management, podiatry, and sports medicine expertise.

SAN ANTONIO , TX, UNITED STATES, January 27, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TSAOG Orthopaedics & Spine, the largest orthopedic care practice in South Texas, announces the addition of five specialists to its medical team, further expanding its comprehensive care offerings across the region.

The new physicians bring diverse expertise to TSAOG's established practice. Dr. Patrick Ahern, fellowship-trained in pain medicine at the University of California, Irvine, specializes in multidisciplinary pain management, including advanced treatments like spinal cord stimulation and radiofrequency ablation.

Board-certified podiatrist Dr. Cory J. Moczygemba, trained at Barry University and Baylor Scott and White, focuses on comprehensive foot and ankle care, including minimally invasive bunion surgery and diabetic foot management. He serves patients at the New Braunfels and Ridgewood facilities.

The sports medicine team grows with three fellowship-trained surgeons. Dr. Richard Nauert, educated at Texas A&M and Mayo Clinic, specializes in complex knee and shoulder procedures. Dr. Harrison Scofield, trained at the Steadman Hawkins Clinic, brings joint preservation and reconstruction expertise. Dr. Christopher J. Tucker, board-certified with specialized training from the John A. Feagin, Jr. Sports Medicine Fellowship at Westpoint, offers advanced arthroscopic techniques and joint replacement procedures.

TSAOG Orthopaedics & Spine continues its proud tradition of excellent musculoskeletal care in San Antonio and South Texas by welcoming these excellent physicians to its team.

About the Company:
