What is driving the growth of the Kesimpta market?

The Kesimpta market's growth is linked to the increasing prevalence of multiple sclerosis MS. The condition, a chronic autoimmune disease, impacts the central nervous system and leads to nerve fiber degeneration. This process results in symptoms such as muscle weakness, vision problems, and cognitive impairment. Kesimpta is used to treat relapsing forms of multiple sclerosis MS by targeting B-cells to reduce relapses and slow disability progression. In July 2023, data from Public Health Scotland revealed that newly diagnosed patients with multiple sclerosis MS increased to 87.2% in 2022, up from 85.7%, leading to the growth of the Kesimpta market.
