

DR. MATSUMOTO JOINS MUSC AS ASSISTANT PROFESSOR IN ORTHODONTICS AND PERIODONTICS

WILMINGTON, NC, UNITED STATES, January 30, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dr. Matsumoto, renowned orthodontist and periodontist at Matsumoto Orthodontics & Periodontics, has been appointed as an Assistant Professor in the James B. Edwards College of Dental Medicine at the Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC).

Dr. Matsumoto's title was made official on January 1, 2025, and he will soon begin contributing his extensive expertise to the Division of Applied Craniofacial Sciences, Department of Advanced Specialty Sciences.

Dr. Matsumoto's dual appointment in Orthodontics and Periodontics reflects his commitment to advancing interdisciplinary dental care. In this part-time position, he will provide both didactic and clinical instruction to residents, sharing his knowledge of early intervention in skeletal development, soft tissue management, and modern orthodontic and periodontal techniques. He will travel monthly to MUSC to lead lectures and clinical training sessions.

Dr. Matsumoto

"I am humbled yet elated to share my passion for Orthodontics and Periodontics with the next generation of specialists,” said Dr. Matsumoto. “Teaching has always been a fulfilling part of my career, and I look forward to contributing to the exceptional academic environment at MUSC.”

A Legacy of Teaching and Innovation

Dr. Matsumoto’s teaching appointment at MUSC builds on his experience as a former full-time faculty member at the University of Pennsylvania, where he taught orthodontic and periodontal residents both in the classroom and in clinical settings.

His contributions to dental education include publishing articles in leading journals and authoring textbook chapters on topics such as skeletal development, soft tissue grafting, and interdisciplinary treatment approaches.

With a reputation for excellence in periodontal plastic surgery, bone grafting, and advanced orthodontic techniques like Surgically Facilitated Orthodontic Therapy (SFOT), Dr. Matsumoto’s expertise aligns with MUSC’s mission to train future leaders in dental medicine.

What This Means for Patients

Dr. Matsumoto’s appointment further solidifies his practice’s standing as a leading provider of advanced orthodontic and periodontal care. Patients at Matsumoto Orthodontics & Periodontics in Porters Neck, Wilmington, NC, can take pride in knowing their doctor is shaping the future of dental medicine.
