

Love That Door Unveils New Dallas Showroom and Collection of Energy-Efficient Custom Doors for 2025

Love That Door Unveils New Dallas Showroom and Collection of Energy-Efficient Custom Doors for 2025 as it opens its 4th location and official headquarters.

DALLAS, TX, UNITED STATES, February 4, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Love That Door, a leading provider of premium custom iron doors and windows, is excited to announce the grand opening of its new Dallas showroom located at 1322 Round Table Dr. Dallas, TX 75247, marking the company's continued growth and innovation in the door and window industry. Despite the challenges of the pandemic, Love That Door has quietly expanded from a small, family-run operation to four locations, including a newly acquired, $4 million-dollar real estate investment to serve as the headquarters and distribution center in the heart of Dallas. This marks an incredible elevation from the days where the company initially started when then used an old barn for to store and build initial inventory.

As part of this growth, Love That Door is proud to unveil its latest collection of energy-efficient, custom-designed doors that combine cutting-edge technology, aesthetic beauty, and sustainability. The new showroom offers an immersive experience for homeowners, builders, and architects looking to explore a wide range of products, from the brand's signature hand-forged wrought iron doors to its newest energy-efficient aluminum sliding doors, bifolds, and windows.

craftsmanship, unparalleled customer service, and innovative design solutions. This new showroom not only provides customers with an in-person opportunity to experience Love That Door's premium products firsthand but also highlights the company's commitment to sustainability and energy efficiency in their latest product innovations.

"We're thrilled to unveil our new Dallas showroom and share our exciting new collection of energy-efficient doors," said Chad Crenshaw, CEO of Love That Door. "As we continue to grow and adapt, our focus has been on providing products that not only elevate the aesthetic appeal of homes and businesses but also offer significant long-term energy savings. Our new showroom gives our customers the opportunity to experience the quality of our custom doors while discovering how they can lower energy costs and enhance the functionality of their spaces."

Energy-Efficient and Sustainable Design

Love That Door's latest collection features advanced energy-saving technology, including thermally broken aluminum doors, Low-E glass, and insulated core materials, all designed to minimize energy loss and improve thermal insulation. Whether it's a custom iron door, sliding aluminum patio door, or panoramic bifold, Love That Door's products are crafted to meet the highest standards of performance and sustainability.

In addition to energy efficiency, Love That Door's doors and windows are designed with durability in mind. The company utilizes high-quality materials like 12-gauge steel and aluminum extrusions, ensuring that their doors and windows not only provide energy savings but also withstand the test of time and the elements.
