Stewart says: 'SongBits allows artists to benefit from a much needed income stream from the work they create and record, and fans to own a part of their favourite artists' outputs, something that used to only be the realm of record labels. I'm proud to be an investor and we hope this is going to be an increasingly important new model. It's great that a charity like World Central Kitchen can also benefit from this concept, as with our drop of Never Forget My Love'.

Stone adds: 'I'm excited to be working again with my friend Dave on this project. Never Forget My Love is one of my favorite tracks from the last album we did together. He's such an innovator-always looking at new tech like SongBits and finding ways to help fellow musicians. This one also helps out a brilliant charity.'

In keeping with their dedication to making a positive impact, 20% of all SongBits sales from Never Forget My Love will be donated to World Central Kitchen (WCK), an NGO founded by chef José Andrés. A nonprofit organization dedicated to providing meals in the wake of natural disasters or war. Dave Stewart is a longtime supporter of the charity. Their mission is to feed those in need quickly and effectively, regardless of politics or borders.

Commenting on the charitable donation, Dave Stewart shared:

"I met José Andrés just before the 2010 earthquake in Haiti, where he started World Central Kitchen with his wife. WCK focuses on one mission: feeding people who are hungry. I admire their non-political, action-oriented approach and have been supporting their work from the start. This is a cause close to my heart, and I'm proud to help further their mission."
