The report provides an in-depth analysis of the top investment pockets, top winning strategies, drivers & opportunities, market size & estimations, competitive scenario, and varying market trends.

Humanization of pets, increased awareness about the health of pet animals, and rise in trend of nuclear families drive the growth of the global cat food market. On the other hand, high death rate of pets and increase in pet obesity restrain the growth to some extent. However, surge in pet population and rise in e-commerce sales are expected to create lucrative opportunities in the industry.

The key market players analyzed in the global cat food market report include Affinity Petcare SA, Evanger's Dog and Cat Food Company Inc., Nutro Products Inc., Hill's Pet Nutrition, The J.M. Smucker Company Fromm Family Foods LLC, Mars Incorporated, Nestle Purina, Party Animal Inc., and Rollover Premium Pet Food Ltd. These market players have adhered to several strategies including partnership, expansion, collaboration, joint ventures, and others to prove their flair in the industry.

Covid-19 scenario-

Supply-chain disruptions across the world impacted the global cat food market negatively, especially during the initial phase of the pandemic.

However, as the global situation is getting back to normalcy, the market is projected to recoup soon.

The global cat food market is analyzed across nature, food type, sales channel, and region. Based on nature, the conventional segment contributed to nearly two-thirds of the total market revenue in 2020, and is projected to lead the trail by 2030. The organic segment, however, would exhibit the fastest CAGR of 5.0% during the forecast period.
