In the professional beauty services industry, a wide range of professional beauty products are available for deeply nourishing skin such as lotions, creams, and essential oils. In addition, rise in consciousness about personal well-being and appearance has increased among men, which drives the professional beauty service market. Moreover, owing to a hectic lifestyle and varying climatic conditions, men are also adopting skin care, sun care, and hair care services. Thus, professional beauty services help in treating damaged skin and provide prevention from dry & dull skin, which boosts their demand globally.

According to U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, increasing demand for hair, skin, nail, and massage services from a growing customer population will drive the professional beauty service market.

In addition, an expanded customer base to include more men and increased offerings of services will also contribute to faster employment in the industry and occupations providing these services, such as barbers, hairdressers, hairstylists and cosmetologists, manicurists and pedicurists, skin care specialists, and massage therapists. Numerous new personal care services have been popularized in recent years. In addition to basic manicures and pedicures, nail services include manicure styles, extensions, and a growing trend in artificial nails with various design offerings and adornments which surge the demand for the professional beauty services market.

As per service, the professional beauty services market size is segmented into hair service (hair cutting, hair coloring, and others), skin service (skin care, injectables, makeup, and others), nail service (manicure and pedicure, nail extension, and others), and merchandise sales. Nail care has emerged as one of the most growing segments in the beauty industry, just like the skin, hair, or makeup industry. The trend of frequent change in nail color, gel manicures, or extensions became a hit with celebrities and influencers and soon entered salons like a wave providing a significant opportunity to the professionals working their best for longer stability in the industry.

By gender, the market is further segmented into male and female. The female segment held the major share of the market in 2021 and is projected to maintain its dominance during the forecast period. In recent years, men have increasingly enjoyed treatments, including hairstyling, nail care, and facials, as they are also becoming more mindful of their appearance and well-being, which results in the professional beauty services market growing.
